

From: Scott Bulmer

LONG VIEW: A Clear Vision of Technology Solutions

Sent: Wednesday, January 06, 2010 5:23 PM

Subject: Specialty mover for the USA

Afternoon all, I just wanted to give everyone an update on a new partnership I have developed for our US offices and clients. Last month I was given the task of finding a specialty mover to assist with the TCPL Telepresence install. After reviewing several movers in the Houston area, I came upon a pretty stellar looking specialty moving company, Clark, Duncan & Morris (CDM). I began working with them on the TCPL project and was quite impressed with how quick they were to respond, how detailed their quote was and their ability to work with me to determine the most efficient and cost effective manner in which to complete the move within the TCPL guidelines. Reports back from the TCPL install team were nothing less than impressive, Ahmed was the lead on the install and had nothing but positive to say about how things went. To further this "pilot" move, Peter M. Morris, co-owner CDM, was onsite for the duration of the project to introduce himself and the company.

I have done some further background work on checking into CDM and their history. I was able to dig up the following info, which only strengthens my recommendation to use CDM's services further...

- Written referral's from some well known companies such as: Telvent, Weatherford and CyrusOne to name a few, as well as a BBB Accredited rating of A-. After some research, I found that the A- rating was due only to the fact that they have only been accredited since Dec 2007...essentially, they haven't been tracked via BBB for long enough to earn an A or A+.
- Peter M. Morris, co-owner of CDM, is one of the committee members for the Office Moving Alliance Worldwide (OMAW). OMAW requires members to adhere to a stringent set of satisfaction ratings and quality service standards that are customer, as well as member driven. Members are invited to join OMAW based on individual merits and are accepted into the OMAW only after submitting a proven track record of success, profitability, ingenuity and dedication to the business community.

CDM will service the Texas area, and as noted above, I will be able to access movers of a similar caliber for all other regions of the US. With the assistance of Peter M. Morris, we will be able to accommodate any request for specialty moving services; I will coordinate with CDM or one of the OMAW members to facilitate the project.

I have provided some links below for those of you who would like to have a look at what CDM offers...going forward, I would like to welcome Clark, Duncan & Morris as one of Long View's preferred movers.

Thanks

---

SCOTT BULMER

Logistics Coordinator

LONG VIEW

A Clear Vision of Technology Solutions

Direct: 403.515.3298

Cellular: 403.809.9604

www.longviewsystems.com

CDM's site

OMAW site

BBB site